Eva Susan Walters was born June 15, 1949 in Lamar, Missouri. In 1967 she graduated from Lamar High School. She then went to St. Luke's Hospital in Kansas City, Missouri to study nursing. She graduated in 1970. Susan holds a baccalaureate degree from Missouri Southern State University, where she was on the Dean's List.

In 1971, Susan married Joseph E. Conrace, an Army Reserve psychiatrist. Later that same year she entered the Army Reserve Nurse Corps. Susan started her nursing career working in the operating room. Throughout her twenty years in the Army Reserve she worked in various civilian settings. Together their careers took them to many places, including Heidelberg, West Germany, Fort Chaffee, Arkansas, and Fort Leonard Wood, Missouri. During the past forty years they have moved eighteen times to various assignments.

Susan and Joseph now reside in her grandparents' house, the same house in which she was born and raised. They have four children. She currently works in home health for Freeman Hospital, Joplin, Missouri.

Susan has been a Mary Kay consultant for twenty-five years. She is a member of Phi Eta Sigma, Episcopal Church, Barton County Arts Council, and the Business and Professional Women's Club. In her spare time she enjoys playing bridge, golf, swimming, and reading.

Susan has been very active in DAR. She was Regent and Vice Regent of the former Charity Greene Ward Chapter. She joined Rhoda Fairchild Chapter in 2010 and has held many chapter committee chairman positions.
